Gospel Readings for Holy Week

This week, I encourage you to spend time each day reading and reflecting upon what the gospels tell us about the days leading up to Jesus’ empty tomb. The significance of this week is indicated by the fact that the gospel writers’ give roughly a third of their works to the events of this week.

While it is difficult to precisely reconstruct the timetable of what Jesus said and did each day, here’s a suggested list of readings:

- Monday: Matthew 21:18-22
- Tuesday: Mark 12 and Mark 13
- Wednesday: Luke 22:1-6
- Thursday: John 13 (chapters 14-17 too!)
- Friday: Mark 15:1-41
- Saturday: Psalms 42-43
- Easter Sunday: John 20:1-23
